Vines and microclimate

Cueto is located next to Monte Laturce, symbol of the legendary citizens of Clavijo next to mount Cueto and the Moorish castle which towers above it. This wine is obtained from vineyards near the mountain from which it takes its name. Cueto is a wine made from old vines near the mountain within the Denominación de Origen Calificada Rioja appellation. These long-lived vines provide grapes of exceptional quality, in a climate and soil with excellent characteristics. The blend of tempranillo, mazuelo and garnacha mark the style and personality of Cueto Crianza.

Tasting notes

Ripe cherry red colour. Very complex aroma with an intense reminder of the 12 months it spent in toasted oak, and the varietal aromas of the tempranillo. Velvety, sweet and spicy on the palate, with a lot of body and a good balance between fruit and oak. A very full aftertaste with reminders of each of the varieties which make up the coupage.
